Upon entering this property you are greeted with an eclectic mix of styles. All working in perfect harmony with each other the modern blends with the traditional and unique. Set in a stunning location, this villa - built on one level - sits within a large plot offering privacy and calmness.

Through the large wooden front doors, the entrance hall opens up to the large, open plan living room, dining room and kitchen which are all interlinked. The living room is bright and airy due to the floor to ceiling windows, these also offer lovely views of the terrace and garden beyond. The living room offers ample space for relaxing, a cozy fireplace mantle, watching a film or catching up on the day's events. The dining room is located next to the living room. Here you have a magnificent feature ceiling. Made from wood, the ceiling also incorporates sky lights which flood the room with natural light and gives the area a real spacious feel. The kitchen is a mix of the traditional and modern. Fully fitted and equipped the kitchen has a central island, as well as plenty of work surfaces - perfect for the chef of the family.
